There are definitely some improvements, but there is no reason why users should put up with the loss of many classic Taskbar features such as not being able to: ● Separate running apps from the non-running/pinned apps ● Access the right click (context menu) using only the mouse ● Ungroup multiple windows of the same app ● Reduce the extra spacing between taskbar icons and notification area icons ● See extra details in the tooltips of pinned apps ● Have multiple columns of icons for running apps when the Taskbar is vertical ● Select taskbar buttons and perform group actions on them such as group minimize, snap, close or cascade ● Turn off the Always on top behavior.. If you choose Standard, the settings are stored in the registry The Portable version will store settings in INI files.
